

Week of August 14, 2017

The dirt excavation has evolved to form the walls of the activity pool! Concrete will soon be poured.

(This pool will include the 6-lane, 25-M section, water volleyball and basketball, diving well and catch pool area for the new slides.)

Retaining walls are nearly complete on the concession and women's bath house side of the facility.

The splash pad takes realistic shape and is almost ready for concrete.
The structure in progress at the far end is the new pump house for the splash pad and baby pool.

The addition extending off the men's bath house side of the facility will become the new Event Room.

The new block walls extending from the former counter / office space will become a lifeguard office and separate first aid station.
